Touch Free Hydrophilic Intermittent Catheter

Touch free catheter with an integrated collection bag in a pocket size package.

Prehydrated and ready to use right out of the package

The protective tip and sleeve help keep germs away

Both the catheter and collection bag are packaged in a small, discreet pouch that's easy to open

In many people, bacteria are concentrated in the first part of the urethra. The protective tip is designed to help reduce the risk of carrying these bacteria into your bladder during catheter insertion. Inserting the protective tip into your urethra and then passing the catheter through the end of the protective tip may help the catheter avoid these bacteria.
