

2017 180 Medical College Scholarship Program APPLICATION INFORMATION

ABOUT 180 MEDICAL

180 Medical is one of the leading urologic catheter and ostomy suppliers in the United States. It focuses on providing quality products with superior customer service. Todd Brown, Founder of 180 Medical, created a scholarship program to help young adults get a quality education despite their medical hardships.

MEET TODD

In 1994, Todd Brown was injured in a motocross accident that left him paralyzed from the chest down. In an instant, his whole world changed forever. Once he left the rehabilitation facility and transitioned back to living at home, Todd faced all kinds of new challenges and problems he'd never encountered before. Adjusting to the reality of life in a wheelchair was extremely difficult on its own, but on top of that, he also dealt with constant urinary tract infections that first year, which were almost too much to handle.

Fortunately, Todd met some good friends, also in chairs, who opened his eyes to a universe of urologic catheter options which are specifically aimed at reducing the occurrence of UTIs. When Todd started using these products, his body was no longer fatigued all the time from fighting infection, he didn't have to clean and reuse his catheters, and he regained a lot of independence and confidence. He felt like his life had been turned around! Not long after that, he decided to create a company with the sole purpose of getting these products to other people in similar situations so their lives could be turned around too.
